DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-8 and 12-15, drawn to polymerization processes, classified in class 526, subclass 172.
  - II. Claims 9-11, drawn to catalysts, classified in class 502, subclass 103.
  - III. Claims 16-18, drawn to polymers, classified in class 526, subclass 317.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the catalyst is useful in such processes as hydrogenation, isomerization, etc.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions comprise a catalyst and a polymer, and these compositions share no common structural features, physical properties, chemical reactivity or uses.

Art Unit: 1713

Inventions I and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). Claims 1-8 drawn to olefin polymerization are distinct from the polymer claims because the polymer claims are drawn to copolymers of olefins and non-olefins; claims 12-15 are distinct from the polymer claims because the broad scope of process conditions specified in claims 12-15 could be used to make polymers which do not have all of the required polymer properties specified in claims 16-18.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Regardless of which group is elected, a further election of species is required because this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed inventions: for Group I, an olefin polymerization process comprising catalyst ligand structure I, II or XII, or an ethylene/polar monomer polymerization process comprising a specific catalyst ligand structure within the scope of claim 12 (preferable chosen from the species shown in claim 15); for Group II, catalyst structures comprising ligand structures I, II or XII; for Group III, the polymer of claim 16, 17 or 18. In each case, the species are distinct because substantially different chemical structures are specified, and such divergent structures would have distinct properties.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1 and 5 are generic to claims 1-8, claim 12 is generic to claims 12-15, claim 9 is generic to claims 9-12, and no claim is generic to claims 16-18.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

A telephone call was made to Mr. Alanson Bowen on 1/17/2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.
